Dear Archaia Submissions,

Please accept my graphic novel submission for FEEDING GROUND, a cyber-punk police thriller set in Athens, Greece. As a long-time admirer of Archaia's production line, I am excited to be considered. I have always respected the quality Archaia puts into the physical production of its hardcover books, as well as the diverse array of stories and genres you publish.

I think FEEDING GROUND will fit well in your solid tradition of both noir and sci-fi books like The Killer and Titanium Rain, as well as with your more teen-friendly books, such as Lucid and Days Missing. For FEEDING GROUND, I am looking for a publisher that gets excited by books that push the envelop in both style and story, so I hope it will find a home at Archaia.

The book is drawn in black and white, written as a full-length, 95-page graphic novel. It was original released as a webcomic, which can be read in full at www.webcomic.com. I am the writer, artist, toner, and letterer on the project and can be contacted at the above addresses.

Thank you again for your consideration!

Best,

Creator
